SMALL-BUSINESS GROWTH

HAPPEN

'For your business to succeed, you need to answer in a need.'

During our time working in corporate, we tried our hands at various business ventures in the retail space. But we soon realised that if we were going to be serious about starting our own business, we would need to give it our undivided attention – and we'd need some help.

Help came in the form of Nedbank and Erika Liebenberg, our Relationship Banker who provided the wind our sails needed. Assisting us with suitable banking solutions and finance options, Erika got the job done without us having to worry about the nitty-gritty, which meant we could focus on our business – Kushesh Express. With Erika and Nedbank's help, our business has grown from four to thirty-four employees, and from one branch to three: in Johannesburg, Durban and Cape Town.
